What is IOC?

India's ambitious target of achieving net zero by 2070 is a significant challenge due to its vast size and diversity. The task demands a massive mobilization of human capital but also presents substantial opportunities for job creation and economic activity. Addressing this challenge, SEEM Academy and Industry Outreach Centre aim to bridge the gap between the competencies needed for this lofty goal and the current engineering education curricula. The objective is to mould young professionals who are not only aware and conscious but also competent to tackle the sustainability challenges ahead.
